

FIREMEN HURT IN THIRD STATION ISLAND BLAZE

Flames Again Attack Plant
of American Cotton
Dock & Trust Co.

For the third time in three weeks fire worked havoc in the extensive property of the American Cotton Dock and Trust Company at St. George, S. I., today. Two warehouses, filled with cotton, were destroyed, and the blaze, swept by a strong wind from the south, damaged and threatened to wipe out the property of the United States Lighthouse Department. The loss will reach $100,000. Two firemen were injured.

There were twenty-two warehouses in the plant of the corporation. Three weeks ago today, in a fire that started shortly after midnight, warehouses Nos. 17, 18 and 19 were destroyed with their contents—bales of cotton and hemp. Last Tuesday, in a fire that started about daybreak, warehouses Nos. 3 and 4 were destroyed with their contents. The warehouses burned today were at the extreme northern end of the dock company's property and adjoining those destroyed a week ago. Directly to the north is the plant of the Lighthouse Department for this district.

A gang of twenty firemen, working in the ruins of the last fire at 2 o'clock this afternoon saw smoke issuing from the rear windows of warehouse No. 2, which is 600 feet long and 100 feet wide, built of brick, with a tin roof. They dropped their work and started against the new danger, while a policeman sent in an alarm.

Two of the firemen climbed to the roof and were in the act of raising a line of hose with a rope when there was a terrific explosion. The entire roof was blown off Warehouse No. 2 and the two firemen were hurled 30 feet away from the building to the ground. Luckily they landed on their feet and were not seriously injured.

With the roof of the building off the flames spread rapidly and Warehouse No. 1 was soon ablaze. Battalion Chief Guerin sent in a general alarm and summoned all the apparatus on Staten Island, and telephoned to Chief Crocker at Fire Headquarters. Fireboats from Manhattan and Brooklyn were ordered to the scene.

The Hamburg-American liner Allegheny, which reached port to-day from Port Limon, Costa Rica, with one passenger and a miscellaneous cargo, ran into a waterspout yesterday morning off Cape Hatteras. The upper part of the ship was flooded, two of the officers were knocked senseless and the lone passenger was frightened half to death.

The barometer began to fall about midnight Sunday and at daybreak First Officer Reimers, who was on the bridge, was on the lookout for bad weather. Quartermaster Antonio Giovanni was at the wheel. No other person was on deck.

Mr. Reimers was not surprised when the ship ran into a driving waterspout. In a few minutes, although it was broad daylight, he was unable to see the length of the ship ahead because of the terrific downpour. Suddenly out of the cloudy mist there appeared a gigantic waterspout.

"It extended from the surface of the sea to the clouds," said Mr. Reimers to-day, "and dropped down on us with a whirling motion. Giovanni had time to give one twist of the wheel and then we both caught hold of the rail and hung on. We were too close to steer out of the way and the wave boarded us on our port bow."

"A regular waterfall swept over the ship. I was torn loose from my hold on the rail and dashed senseless against the deckhouse. Giovanni held on, but was almost drowned. The cabins were flooded and everything movable on the decks that was not securely fastened was washed overboard. I regained my senses shortly and found that the shock had caused the engineer to slow down. When Capt. Boda got on deck the storm had passed astern.

Considering the great amount of water that swept over the ship the damage done was surprisingly small. The accident did not delay the Allegheny and she docked on her schedule time.

DEMANDS PUNISHMENT FOR TOBACCO MEN.

Grand Jury Reports Their Contempt of Court and Judge Lacombe Will Hear Arguments.

The Federal Grand Jury appeared this afternoon before Judge Lacombe and asked the Court to adjudge in contempt William H. McAdister, secretary of the American Tobacco Company; William Ransom, Secretary of the MacAndrews, Forbes Company, and John S. Young, of the John S. Young Company, of Baltimore, for having failed to produce certain books and records as demanded in subpoenas.

The men appeared as directed on June 4, but did not produce the books. They appeared again yesterday without the data, claiming it was not in their physical possession and also that the books contain personal as well as official matter. They offered, however, to produce letters asked for.

Judge Lacombe fixed Saturday for arguing the matter.

TWO INJURED BY RUNAWAY HORSE IN MAD FLIGHT

Driver Dashed Against 'L'
Pillar and Boy Trampled
Under Foot.

The combination of an automobile siren horn tooting behind him, and an
"L" train passing overhead was too much for the nerves of a horse attached to a delivery wagon at Broadway and Throop avenue, Williamsburg, today.
The animal ran away for half a mile,
possibly mortally injuring his driver and a six-year-old boy, painfully hurting a police man, smashing the wagon to bits

and creating a panic along a half mile stretch of busy thoroughfare.

The horse and wagon, the property of J. J. Paul, a provision dealer, of No. 31 Bushwick avenue, was driven by Robert Sauer, of No. 55 Bushwick avenue. Sauer stuck to his seat when the animal bolted, but was utterly unable to check the runaway.

At Broadway and Walton street the horse swerved to avoid a trolley car
and smashed the wagon against an "L" pillar. Sauer was thrown out and landed on his side. His right thigh was fractured in two places and his right leg was fractured at the knee.

The shock released the maddened animal from the wagon and he kept along Broadway to Moore street, where, in front of No. 60 Broadway, he ran up on the sidewalk in front of Lippman's auction-room. Julius Lippman, 68 years old, was knocked down and trampled
by the horse.

Police man Ricketts caught the runaway four blocks further on. He was dragged a block and was about to let go when Police man Ferguson went to his assistance and the beast, Sauer and young Lippman were taken to the hospital in the same ambulance.
Police man Ricketts left the lower end of his uniform and was given leave of absence to make repairs.
